

Gettysburg, Tuesday, May 7, 1935

A REASONABLE SUGGESTION

There ought not to be in Gettysburg any occasion for an ordinance prohibiting the collection of offensive refuse or rubbish nor ought a Health officer to be a necessity or the abatement of a nuisance be left to the Board of Health or other town authority. A property owner is a renter ought to keep his place and his surroundings in good condition without the intervention of a Borough ordinance.

It would seem that the satisfaction and pleasure to be derived from order and neatness, coupled with the pride which one should naturally take in keeping his property in fine condition, would be sufficient incentive to keep all private properties, and Gettysburg in general, clean and beautiful. The recent cleaning of the streets was a good move so far as it went, but the point is to keep them so clean.

This question is worthy of some consideration. The solution rests very largely with the private citizens, who, by keeping their own places in becoming order, and in having the town as a whole in an orderly and beautiful situation.

This is the season of the year for a thorough overhauling and renovating.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

The Farr Education bill, now in the hands of the Governor, having passed both houses, is another of those ventures on the part of an unconscionable Legislature which will put the state at considerable expense.

It provides, in effect, that every parent, guardian or other person in this Commonwealth, having control or charge of a child or children between the ages of eight and thirteen years shall be required to send such child or children to a school where the common law of this State is taught, and such child or children shall attend such school during at least six weeks of each year.

That for every neglect of this duty the person in parental control or charge shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, and upon conviction thereof before a justice of the peace or alderman, to be imprisoned for not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days.

That if deemed necessary for the better enforcement of the provisions of this act, the boards of school directors may employ one or more persons, to be known as attendance officers, whose duty it shall be to look after, apprehend and place in such schools as the person in parental control or charge is liable to neglect, and to report to the boards of school directors in accordance with the provisions of this act.

That the salary of the attendance officer shall be fixed by the board of school directors, and shall not exceed $100 per annum.

That the salary of the attendance officer shall be fixed by the board of school directors, and shall not exceed $100 per annum.

President Cleveland wrote the following letter to Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, under date of April 20th:

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., April 20, 1895. Hon. J. M. Stone, Governor, etc.—My Dear Sir:

Whether those appointed to places shall, in speech and action, believe in the right of the colored people to the same rights as the white people, is a question which they hold office as to a large extent, a matter of taste and good feeling, and one which is not to be trusted for the performance of their duties in a manner creditable to the administration.

A Washington correspondent to the Philadelphia Record writes:

Approach of the approaching Decoration Day season, it is interesting to note the recent departure by the Federal Government in establishing military parks on the three great battlefields of the civil war to serve as permanent objects lessons to the nation.

None of these military parks will be merely ornamental pleasure grounds in any sense, and no work of a purely decorative character will be done on them.

They will be places of instruction and of inspiration, and will be kept continuously in that condition, including the landmarks and the graves of the soldiers who fought the war.

Six hundred commissioners elected for the one hundred and seventh general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, will convene in Philadelphia, on Thursday, May 10, 1935.

Unusual preparations are being made for this event for the reason that this assembly marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the reunion of the old schism of the Presbyterian church in the year 1870.

The reunion of the schism of the Presbyterian church in the year 1870, was a significant event in the history of the church, and the assembly will mark the occasion with special services.
